

ETHICS AND THE PLACE OF PHILOSOPHY

THE LEGACY OF BERNARD WILLIAMS'S CRITIQUE

October 28-29, 2011

At the University of Chicago with funding from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

SPEAKERS

Sarah Broadie – In the Steps of Bernard Williams: Looking at Ancient Greek Ethics

Raymond Geuss – Did Williams Do Ethics?

Alasdair MacIntyre – The Elusive Starting-Point of Deliberation: A Crux in Bernard Williams's Thought

Richard Moran – Williams, History, and "the Impurity of Philosophy"

Samuel Scheffler – Fear, Death, and Confidence

COMMENTATORS

Agnes Callard, James Conant, Gabriel Lear, Robert Pippin, Candace Vogler

INTRODUCTORY & CLOSING REMARKS

Jonathan Lear, Martha Nussbaum

Registration is free but required for all attendees

For registration & further information visit bernardwilliams.wordpress.com

Conference Organizer: Jonathan Lear Graduate Student Coordinator: Mark Hopwood

Persons with a disability who require assistance are asked to contact Mark Hopwood (mhopwood@uchicago.edu) in advance.

Photo of Bernard Williams courtesy Patricia Williams
Artwork: Paul Gauguin, "Where Do We Come From? What Are We? Where Are We Going?"